Bandits Get $125, Car In 2 Hold-Ups In City Area

Robberies Staged In Yards

Bus Driver Loses $47

Surprised by hold-up men in their darkened back yards last night, two Mansfield men were robbed, at gun point, of a total of $135 in cash. One of the victims was forced to back his car out of the garage and surrender it to one of the bandits.

Victims of the hold-ups were Richard Bell, 32, of 105 Home road, accosted as he left his garage at 10:30 p. m., and Henry Schulties, 288 Beymiller street, a Mansfield bus driver, who was forced to give up his cash box at 12:15 a. m. today.

Today, sheriff's deputies, Mansfield police and state highway patrolmen joined in an intensive search for the bandits.

Bell told officers he was robbed of $88 and his 1946 model car. Schulties lost $47 in cash and $12 in bus tokens, he told police.

Robbery of Schulties was the second reported in the past year and a half. Schulties was robbed of his bus fares and wallet on Oct. 27, 1947 after being struck over the head by an unknown assailant as the bus driver walked through the Westinghouse plant garages on his way home from work. Loot then included $29.60 in cash, $9 in bus tokens and $7.50 from the wallet.

LEAVING GARAGE

Bell reported the hold-up to sheriff's deputies at 10:45 p. m. yesterday. He said he arrived home, put his car in the garage and was leaving by a side door when a man stepped out of the shadows, told him to put up his hands and held something in his back which Bell said "felt like a gun."

The bandit then took Bell's wallet, containing $88, his Social Security card and driver's license and ordered Bell to open the garage doors and back the car out. Bell was then ordered out of the car and the bandit was reported to have driven the car toward West Fourth street road. Bell was unable to give a description of the bandit.

Sheriff's deputies said this afternoon they found Bell's car abandoned on State Route 39, north of Mansfield. It was held by the sheriff's office for a fingerprint check.

HAD SOUTHERN ACCENT

Approximately two hours later, police received a call from Schulties, who said he was entering his home through the rear door when a young man, "about medium sized and having a southern accent," held him up.

Schulties said he believed the gun used in the hold-up was a re-

Indicted In 2 Abortions

ASHLAND — A former Mansfield physician, Dr. Wayne E. Young, of Mifflin, was held in the Ashland county jail here today awaiting arraignment, following his secret indictment on a charge of criminal abortion.

Indicted by the Ashland county grand jury secretly on Wednesday, Dr. Young was immediately taken into custody and held without bond. He will enter his plea either late today or tomorrow.

He is specifically charged with performing an abortion on Nov. 19, 1948. Sheriff M. F. Rickenbrod said he had two statements from women upon whom abortions were allegedly performed.

Holder of a physician's license, Dr. Young practiced medicine in Mansfield up to a year ago. He had an office at 27 East Second street.

If convicted, he faces a prison term of one to seven years.

T-H Law Battle Delayed

WASHINGTON — (INS) — The opening of the congressional battle on repeal of the Taft-Hartley law today was postponed pending final, last-minute adjustments in the administration's labor bill.

The hearings were scheduled to open at 10 a. m. today before the Senate Labor committee with Secretary of Labor Maurice J. Tobin as the first witness.

However, it was learned that the administration's proposed substitute for the Taft-Hartley measure is not in final form and the Labor secretary decided not to testify until the bill is in the committee's hands.

The office of Sen. Thomas (D) Utah, committee chairman, indicated that the start of the hearings on repeal of Taft-Hartley, and reenactment of the Wagner act with amendments may be delayed until Monday.

Other witnesses to be heard then are Cyrus S Ching, director of the Federal Mediation service, and Paul Herzog, chairman of the National Labor Relations board.

The committee already has voted 8-to-5 along straight party lines for repeal of the existing statute, re-enactment of the Wagner act and conclusion of hearings on amendments to the latter not later than Feb. 10.

MARCH 1 DEADLINE

Majority Leader Lucas (D) Ill., reaffirmed that date and indicated that the administration would like to get the new law on the books by March 1.

Lucas pointed out that spring is the heavy contract - writing period. He said neither labor nor management will want to conclude new contracts without knowing what the labor law will be and the threat of strikes may intensify.

The Democratic time-table may be upset, however, on the Senate floor—if not in the committee—by Republican senators who want to retain many provisions of the Taft-Hartley act.

600 Perish In Disaster

Fleeing Refugees Drown at Sea

SHANGHAI — (AP) — More than 600 persons tonight were feared lost in an early morning collision of two Chinese ships off Chu Shan island, 100 miles south of Shanghai.

The vessels, the passenger freighter Taiping and the freighter Kienyuan, collided in a fog a few minutes after last midnight.

Hours later only 40 of the 650 persons aboard the two ships had been accounted for. The Australian destroyer Warramunga picked up 35 and five others were rescued by other craft.

The Waramunga, en route to Shanghai from Japan, deposited its survivors at the mouth of the Whangpoo river, 12 miles below Shanghai. Language difficulty prevented the Australian about the sea disaster from the Chinese.

The Taiping, operated by the Chung Lien Ship company, was en route to Formosa with some 500 war refugees. It was feared some government officials and their families might have been lost. The vessel carried a crew of 75.

Peace Fading For Palestine

RHODES — (AP) — Israeli-Egyptian armistice negotiations were at the edge of failure today.

Failure of both sides to modify their stands appeared likely to wreck the conference very soon. Egypt has demanded the Jews give up gains in the southern desert which the Jews have refused to do.

The two-week old negotiations resumed yesterday after a two-day recess during which the delegates went home to consult with their governments on the deadlock.

Jury Again Urges Jail Repairs

Sheriff Calls For County Action

Another grand jury has called for extensive repairs to the county jail and remodeling of the aging structure.

In a report submitted late yesterday to Common Pleas Judge G. E. Kalbfleisch, the January term jury recommended work on the building that would cost several thousand dollars.

The recommendations included:

Repairs to lights, windows, lighting conduits, toilets and lavatories; installation of a forced draft ventilating system; installation of bunk pads and benches in the cell blocks, and painting of the cell blocks.

Some redecorating now is under way at the jail building.

Sheriff E. P. Long said he hoped the jury recommendations would result in some action."

"The grand jury always makes those recommendations, but in the past they've never been followed," Long said. "Nothing was done on the county jail for four years until just lately. I expect the present commissioners to get behind a jail repair program."

The sheriff said repairs to the toilets and lavatories were the most urgent. He pointed out that they are continually stopping up and the water taps all leak. The lighting conduits and light fixtures are also badly in need of repair or replacement, he added.

Long said he approved the recommenration to install benches in the cell block, pointing out that prisoners had only the floor on which to sit while they were in the block.

The jail office is currently being painted. Long said the jail roof would be painted as soon as the weather improves.

Stage Set For Brussels Pact

LONDON — (UP) — The five Brussels Pact nations of Britain, France, Belgium, Holland and Luxembourg were reported putting the finishing touches today on a political-military plan which will set the stage for their joining a North Atlantic Defense pact with the United States and Canada.

The two-day conference of foreign ministers of the five nations, which is scheduled to end today, is expected to mark the last time the western union nations meet before joining the North Atlantic pact.

'Fortress In the Fight'

Cornerstone Laid At New TB Hospital

By NITA BRANSON

Cold rain pelted the 100 Mansfield and Richland county residents who viewed the laying of the cornerstone of the new $800,000 TB sanatorium on Lucas road yesterday at 2:30 p. m.

But in spite of the bad weather, it was, as the speaker, J. A. Borowski, put it, a "momentous occasion."

To the men and women who have worked hard for several years for a new sanatorium, it was the realization of a dream, given substance with stone and mortar. Speakers emphasized it is the beginning of a new regume in the TB movement in Mansfield and Richland county.

Ceremonies were opened yesterday with the invocation by Msgr. R. C. Goebel, pastor of the St. Peter's Catholic church, who substituted for Dr. W. M. Taylor, pastor of the Park Avenue Baptist church, unable to be present.

Borowski, who is head of hospital facilities for the Ohio Health department and who has served as technical advisor on the project, called the sanatorium "a fortress of strength against the inroads of tuberculosis."

"Perhaps with this fortress we can eliminate tuberculosis in this community," he declared. "Richland county can be congratulated in being able to erect such a fortress."

Borowski was followed by Dr. Harry Wain, city-county health commissioner, who called yesterday's cornerstone laying a "milestone in the progress of the fight against TB."

Memorial papers, contained in a brass box, were blessed by Msgr. Goebel as they were held by Dr. Oren A. Beatty, medical director of the present TB sanatorium on the Lexington avenue road. Dr. Beatty said he "hoped the new sanatorium serves its purpose well."

The papers, sealed for posterity, included a history of the TB movement in the county written by Mrs. Grace McCausland, former nurse at the TB sanatorium and now a patient there, a history of the new sanatorium building plans and a Bible, gift of the Richland county Gideons.

The trowel used in the ceremonies was presented to Richard Hunt, donor of the site, by Dr. John S. Hattery, head of the building commission Hunt used the trowel to place the mortar at the cornerstone and seal in the brass box.

John Louis, executive secretary of the Ohio Tuberculosis and Health association, was unable to arrive in time for the ceremonies. The benediction was pronounced by Rabbi Moshe

'Shameful,' Says Senator

Cleveland Landlords Flay Mass Eviction

CLEVELAND — (AP) — The Apartment House Owners Association of Cleveland has decided against mass evictions, such as the "Tulsa plan," as a means of registering opposition to rent control.

Association members voted at their 21st annual meeting last night to fight the rent law by "more democratic and practical methods." Members unanimously approved the sending of telegrams to President Truman and the chairmen of both the Senate and House Banking and Currency committees in protest against continuation of the rent law.

The telegrams reminded the President of his state of the union message, in which he called for a fair deal for all, and asked: "How about a fair deal for America's 8,000,000 rental property owners?"

Landlords appeared lukewarm about the announcement yesterday by Karl Duldner, area rent director, that they can profit somewhat by taking advantage of a long-standing provision of the rent control law which reads:

"When vacancies occur in certain classes of apartments and the new tenants exceed the normal occupancy, the rent may be boosted somewhat."

In Washington, Republicans and Democrats agreed today with President Truman that landlords are making a bad mistake if they try to evict tenants as a protest against rent controls.

Senate Democratic Leader Lucas of Illinois told a reporter that senators certainly will look into these evictions when they consider extending federal rent controls that expire March 31.

"I think it's a most extraordinary and shameful performance," Lucas added.

Li Puts OK On 8-Point Peace Plan

Agrees to Confer On Harsh Terms

NANKING — (UP) — Acting Chinese President Li Tsung-Jen has informed communist leader Mao Tze-Tung that his government will accept the original eight communist demands of Jan. 14 as a basis for peace discussions, informed quarters said today.

Li's acceptance was contained in a personal message to Mao in which he again urged the communists to name the time and place of peace talks.

However, Li informed the communist chieftain that the nationalist government could not be expected to accept the eight demands blindly before peace talks began. He agreed only to the eight points as a basis for discussion.

Informed quarters said Li's message did not refer to the demand of a north Shensi communist radio commentator that the government arrest and turn over to the communists all those whose names appear on a communist list of "war criminals."

The first of Mao's eight points, however, demands "punishment" of all Nationalist "war criminals." The original communist list contained the name of retired President Chiang Kai-Shek and Li himself.

Li's official acceptance of the eight - point communist program possibly was spurred by indications that communist field forces are massing men and supplies near the north bank of the Yangtze opposite Nanking for an all-out assault on the Nationalist capital.

Still Found In Operation

Bucyrus Man Will Face Charges

BUCYRUS — The first still to be found in Crawford county since Prohibition was discovered Thursday night by four state liquor inspectors at the farm home of Richard Wilburn, eight miles, southeast of Bucyrus in Whetstone township.

Accompanied by Crawford county Sheriff Ralph Schreck, state inspectors found a 40 gallon still in operation and 12 pints of the finished product. They destroyed three 50-gallon barreis of mash also found on the Wilburn premises.

State Liquore Inspector N. E. MacFarland said he would file a charge against Wilburn for possession of illegal liquor and of manufacturing liquor without a permit.

Wilburn probably will be arraigned Monday by Common Pleas Judge C. U. Ahl, MacFarland said.

Wilburn, 29, is the father of three children and an employe of the Crawford Steel Products company in Bucyrus.

Families Flee Fast-Rising Ohio River

(Compiled From Wire Services)

Another severe blizzard swept a large portion of the western ranges today, dooming hundreds of thousands more sheep and cattle to starvation amidst the mounting snowdrifts.

Livestock officials warned that the new snow and cold temperatures imperiled 3,000,000 head of livestock valued at a half billion dollars or more. The storm forced suspension of haylift operations but the air force hoped to resume flights today.

The blizzard slashed its way across Nebraska, South Dakota, Kansas and Oklahoma, dropping as much as a foot of snow that was whipped into tremendous drifts by 40 to 50 mile an hour winds.

Along its southern fringes, the storm area tossed off freezing rain and sleet that wreaked millions of dollars in property damage to communications lines in Missouri, Oklahoma and Texas.

The rain threatened to renew the force of floods in southern Illinois and Indiana where almost 1,000 persons were forced from their homes.

Early today the leading edge of the blizzard was slugging across central Wisconsin toward the east coast.

Gov. Val Peterson of Nebraska called out four national guard companies to help clear roadways of the new snow.

The 59 planes assigned to haylift operations over Nevada, Utah, Colorado, Nebraska, South Dakota and Wyoming were ordered to take to the air again with loads of baled hay and feed concentrates as quickly as the weather cleared. All of the ships were grounded, at least temporarily, yesterday.

At the height of the blizzard last night, every able-bodied citizen of the little town of Mercer, Mo., turned out to fight a raging fire that threatened to destroy the community.

Residents of towns along the Ohio river, from Parkersburg, W. Va., to Louisville, Ky., put their faith in dikes, pumps and prayer today to ward off floods predicted for this afternoon and tonight.

MORE RAIN DUE

Weather bureau officials at Cincinnati, Huntington, W. Va., and Louisville, Ky., sent out general flood warnings along with predictions of more rain for the next 48 hours.

Cincinnati Weatherman J. C. Alter said the river at the Queen City would reach the 52-foot flood stage probably by this evening.

Across the river, Chief Carl Mershon ordered Kenton county, Kentucky, police on 24-hour duty for as long as the emergency lasts.

Portsmouth's resident U. S. Army Engineer, W. J. Kincaid, said there was an 80-foot gap in the incomplete floodwall designed to protect Portsmouth and New Boston up to the 77-foot stage.

He said the gap would be filled by clay and sandbags. The Portsmouth Citizens' Flood Defense committee was alerted.

Youth Escapes As Car Takes Surprise Swim

A Shiloh youth narrowly escaped death by drowning early Thursday when his car swerved off the Black Fork bridge on the Bowman street road and completely submerged in the rain-swollen stream.

The near-victim, J. H. Garns, 21, reported to sheriff's deputies that he escaped through an open window in the car and swam to the bank. The water-soaked car was hoisted out of the creek today after wrecking crews had worked for more than 12 hours finding the submerged vehicle

Garns told deputies he lost control of his car while on the bridge and that it rolled over several times after reaching the roadway and rolled back into the stream. One of the most dangerous bridges in the county road system, the Black Fork span is set on a right angle with the road, necessitating a sharp turn to the right and then to the left in crossing.

Wind Dips Mercury

Strong westerly gusts buffeted the Mansfield area today, replacing the rain of the past week and sending the mercury down to freezing by noon.

A 19-degree drop in temperatures from midnight to noon today was recorded at the CAA station at the airport. Colder and snow flurries were forecast for tonight with snow flurries and "much colder" seen for the Saturday weather picture.

Winds that reached 39 miles per hour last night accompanied by strong gusts of 47 miles, moderated to 30-mile-an-hour winds today.

Five-day weather forecast for the area today stated:

Temperatures will average two to four degrees below normal. Cold Saturday and Sunday, warmer Monday, colder Wednesday. Snow flurries Saturday; snow in north portion and rain or snow in south portion late Monday or Tuesday. Total precipitation near one-half inch.

Many roads in the southern and southwest portions of the state were closed today due to high water that spilled over river banks and streams when rain swelled them to over-capacity.

However, weather officials predicted high waters would not seriously affect central Ohio.

The noon report of the Cleveland weather bureau eased the fears of Ohio valley residents by stating no rain was in sight for Ohio for 'several days.'

B-29 Lost, 15 Aboard

LONDON — (AP) — A heavy fog hampered today's efforts to search for a U. S. air force B-29 missing over the Atlantic with 15 men aboard.

Six B-29s were to have taken off last midnight from Marham, England—the missing plane's home base—to join the hunt. But an air force spokesman here said only two got away before the fog closed in.

The heavy fog presumably also hampered R.A.F. planes aiding in the search. An admiralty spokesman said two planes had been reported ready to leave Gibraltar early today but no later message confirmed the takeoff.

The missing plane was on a 3,000 mile flight from Dakar, French West Africa, to England. It's fuel should long since have been exhausted and authorities said "definitely is down somewhere."

Ten Perish In Raging Flames

NEW WATERFORD, N. S. — (AP) — Nine children and an adult died here today in a fire which destroyed a two-story wooden building.

Police said eight of the dead children were from the family of Mr. and Mrs. William McKeigan. The parents escaped with their only other child.

East-Tyger Game Rated As Tossup

Mansfield basketball fans should be treated to the top home game of the 1948-49 season tonight when the strong Columbus East quintet battles Senior high in the Tyger lair.

Senior high, always a fine team at home, will go into tonight's clash rated on no more than even terms. The Tygers have copped 17 straight in the Senior high gym but will be battling injuries as well as East tonight.

Co-Captains Paul Ferguson and Norb Shibinski missed their second drill in a row last night but Coach Vern Hoffman plans to have them in the starting lineup. The problem is how long they will be able to play.

INJURED TUESDAY

Both were injured Tuesday when Mansfield kayoed Fremont Ross, 59 to 40. Shibinski has a bruised back and Ferguson a "charley horse" above the knee. In case they're unable to go, Ed Schmitt will fill in for Shibinski and A. C. Jenkins for Ferguson.

The other starters will be Jimmy Anderson anl Ed Demyan at the forwards and Ken McCally, guard.

The East Tigers match Mansfield in the height department and seem to have the edge in speed. East is tied for second in the seven-team Columbus city league.

Lanky Luther Towers leads the East attack. He's second in the Greater Columbus scoring race with 218 markers. However, Towers got able scoring assistance Tuesday when East knocked West out of a share for the league lead, 67 to 49.

Fast Breaking Ohio State Battles Michigan Saturday

COLUMBUS—(INS)—Coach Tippy Dye's Ohio State cagers have been stressing the fast break in practice sessions this week in preparation for the invasion of Michigan Saturday night.

A triumph over the Wolverines would establish the Scarlet and Gray in third place. Dye says that his squad has reached the point at which lengthy and strenuous practice sessions are not needed and therefore he plans to cut the daily scrimmages down.

Michigan will provide the stiffest test for the Bucks' vaunted fast break and in all-Big Nine Guards Bob Harrison and Pete Elliot, the Wolverines have two of the best defensive aces in the conference.

Last year, Ohio and Michigan split a pair of contests, the Buckeyes winning at home, 70 to 66, while losing by a 40-36 score at Ann Arbor.

The Saturday night tilt will be for the first time since January 10, all the Buckeyes in good health. Dick Schnittker and Bob Donham will take their forward positions with Bob Rardiger at center and Bob Burkholder and Gene Brown at guards.

Center Jack Pfeiffer, who has been sidelined because of a bad back, and forward Gene Melcer, nursing a sprained ankle, will be ready if needed. Melcer hasn't played since Jan. 10 so he will go into the J V preliminary to get limbered up.

Fox Hunting Group Seeks Mystery Animal Saturday

By DON MILLER, News-Journal Outdoor Editor

With past fox drives producing excellent results and full bags, the Richland County Fox Hunters association is aiming at bigger game this week end, according to Harold C. Snyder, president.

Many reports have been issued concerning a "mystery" animal near Lexington, and the group is going to try to bag the 'thing' during Saturday's hunt. The animal, sighted by one man who claimed it to be black and about the size of a dog, has alarmed many residents near Lexington.

In preparation for the hunt, Snyder and Emery Smith toured the area, questioning farmers and forming plans for the drive. All farmers told the same story, according to Snyder. The animal screams in a high pitched voice which resembles a saw going through a log, and one woman told of being kept awake all night by the screams.

LOSE ONE DOG

These reports tie in with earlier ones which told of coon hunters losing one dog and having another badly wounded by some mysterious animal. The badly wounded dog was one owned by Walter Meyers of Mansfield. She suffered a gash down the stomach which required 20 stitches to close.

From this and later reports, hunters and farmers concur in the opinion that the mystery animal is probably a large wildcat. In addition, numerous farmers have reported losing stock and poultry to the marauder.

HUNTERS INVITED

Any interested persons have been invited by Snyder to attend the hunt Saturday. The drivers will meet at the Orchard Park, Lexington, at 8:45 a. m. and launch their drive at a nearby farm. Dinner will be served at the Presbyterian church during the noon hour.

According to Snyder, the hunt will prove one of three things. The identity of the mysterious invader, how well the hunters can shoot, or how fast they can run.

Top NOL Tilt Is Listed On Bucyrus Floor

The most important game on the Northern Ohio league basketball schedule is on tap tonight when Bellevue plays at Bucyrus.

Although Bucyrus is in a three-way tie for second place, the two teams are easily the class of the eight-team circuit. Bucyrus has lost only one game this season and that in league play to Shelby in the final minute, 41 to 40.

Bellevue tops the loop with four wins and one defeat. Its only loss was to Norwalk, 31 to 29. This season is the first time in four years that Bucyrus has posed a threat to the league championship.

The second-place deadlock is sure to be split tonight. Norwalk and Shelby, the other teams in the tie, are set to battle on the Trucker's court. In other league games, Crestline plays at Willard and Upper Sandusky at Galion.

Dozen to Race

ARCADIA, Calif. — (AP) — The second running of the $100,000 Santa Anita maturity comes off tomorrow and a field of about a dozen candidates is in prospect for the world's richest race restricted to four-year-olds.

Undefeated Gopher Five Plays Illini

CHICAGO—(AP)—Minnesota, undefeated in 13 games including five Western conference battles, invades Champaign to play Illinois tomorrow night in a basketball scrap for the top rung in the Big Nine 1949 race.

National prestige also is at stake. The Gophers are rated fifth in the Associated Press nationwide college cage poll and Coach Harry Combes' Illini rank sixth. Illinois has a 12-1 record including three Big Nine triumphs. Its only setback was a 60 to 50 non-conference loss to De Paul of Chicago in Chicago stadium. The Illini later avenged the defeat with an 89 to 51 decision over the Blue Demons at Champaign.

OTHER GAMES

While Illinois and the gophers slug it out in the downstate encounter, Michigan (1-2) will be host to Ohio State (3-2) at Ann Arbor and Purdue (2-3) and Northwestern (1-2) will meet in the opener of a double header in Chicago stadium. In the second game De Paul will tackle Oklahoma A. & M. Earlier this season De Paul beat the Aggies 39 to 32 at Stillwater, Okla.

Doug Mills, Illinois athletic director, said at least 30,000 fans would attend the Illini-Minnesota skirmish tomorrow if Huff Gymnasium was that capacity, instead of seating only 7,000. It was reported that scalpers were asking, and getting, $30 for a pair of tickets.

Bowler Blasts Trio Of 200's In B Loop

Art Hilborn and A. Zacharzuk shared the spotlight in Colony alley bowling last night.

Art fired a brilliant 671 in the Commercial B league for his fifth honor roll score in seven bowling nights. After rolling four straight he had slipped below the line Tuesday and Wednesday of this week.

Zacharzuk, however, rated right at the top for the almost unheard of feat of three consecutive 200 games for a 600 series. It was the first such series in memory of local bowling fans. Zacharzuk rolls with Dearman Transportation.

High single game honors also went to Hilborn with a 265 final game he added to scores of 201 and 205.

TWO OTHER 600's

Two others went over the honor roll 600 mark. Ed Henrich of Schroers rolled 227-164-222—613 and Joe DeYarmon of Rose Bowl posted 190-189-223—602.

Just under was Farrell Hipp of Yuncker's, 593; Carl Weilman, Zitzer's, 588; Jake Hoff, 587; George Condos, 585; and Aid Geiger, 585. Condos also had a 498 in the Tappan Stove loop.

Led by Mary Dintamin a whole host of women went over the 500 mark in the Commercial A league.

Mary pounded out 193-167-190—550 for the City News team, but was closely trailed by Donna Schuster of Ohio Sport Center who had 204-169-175—548.

Other good scores included: Sue Humphrey, Sport Center, 530; Ruth Sonetworth, Outlet Furs, and Helen Civay, Mansfield Beverage, 527; Dot McDevitt, Sport Center, 522; Jean Douville, Lemley Cleaners, 517; Helen Wilhelm, Lemley's, 508, and Cynthia Aplan, Lemley's, 505. McDevitt had a fine 216.

Sis DeWeese had little trouble pacing the Women's Industrial loop at the Colony. She anchored the league-leading Dominion Electric quint with 149-188-206—543.

Others: Helen McCracken, Tappan No. 1, 476; Opal Price, Lumberment No. 2, 452, Chris Au, Mansfield Tire, 450 and Dorothy McKinley, Westinghouse No 1, 430.

A weak third game kept Fred Tonnemacher off the honor roll. Rolling for Al's Kicks in the Amvet league at Richland Recreation, Tonnemacher led off with games of 218 and 221 but faded to a 167 and a 598 total.

However, his score spread-eagled the field as Stan Fox, Mansfield Hardware, trailed with 207-188-163—558. Jerry Rosenberg, Purdy Construction, was third with 172-169-199—540. Others: Joe Rizzo, A. B. Grafton, 506: Bob Forsythe, Smoke Shop, 497 and Ward Walters, Art Litho Print, 495.

Al's led the teams with 2,361.

Lead in the Tappan Stove league went to Bob Tipul with a 199-172-194—565 while Lester Rapp had 152-194-198—544. Others: Bob Curren, 527; Virgil Shaffer, 517; R. Krumm, 513; William Brinning, 506 and William Daugherty, 503.

Kallmertin & Baer replaced Brandenburg in second place in the Amvet Auxiliary league by taking three games from the Chevrolet quintet. Eileen Swank and Virginia Gadfield paced the sweep. Swank had a 453 and Gadfield, 412.

Pollyanna Boone, Drive-in-Ette, had a 431 and Hulda Pahls, Hughes Hardware, 410.

Appleseeders Register Easy Court Victory

Johnny Appleseed's basketball team copped its seventh victory in nine starts yesterday, defeating the Crestline reserves, 55 to 25.

Crestline faded after a fine start as 12 Pioneers broke into the scoring column. The Bulldogs led at the quarter, 10 to 9, but Appleseed was in the van at the other intermission points, 21 to 13 and 39 to 19. Dodd, Crestline guard, was the top scorer for Crestline while Freddie Zahn paced the Pioneers with 133.

Nine members of the Appleseed eighth grade team also scored as the Pioneer "seconds" defeated another Crestline club, 40 to 8. Crestline was held scoreless in the first and fourth periods.

Rams Seek Loss Streak Halt at Trio

By CHARLEY STINE

The Madison Rams, out to break a three-game losing streak tonight, will have to stop two of the top scorers in greater Columbus to turn the trick. The Rams meet Linden McKinley in Madison gym.

Johnny Hayes, Linden center, is fourth and Forward Bob Webb tenth in individual scoring charts of the 14 class A teams in the capital city area. Hayes has ripped the nets for 64 field goals and 184 points in 14 games for an average of 13.1 per game, Webb has 149 points for a 10.6 average.

AT FULL STRENGTH

Madison will be at full strength tonight but will need to be to keep up with the Linden team which has won eight out of fourteen games in the rugged Columbus competition. Madison has a 6 and 5 record.

Coach Blaine Dowler, after a heavy practice session last night, announced that he would revert to his "regular" lineup of Jim Brightbill and Ray "Dutch" Bader at forwards, Joe Distl at center and Larry Secrist and Ed Chelski at guards. That means that Russ Glenn who had started in place of both Brightbill and Distl will be relegated to a substitute role.

Last year Linden beat Madison 38-25 but more important, the Linden reserves won 37-26. Tonight's game will be practically a replay of the reserve game except for a new score and, Madison fans hope, a new result.

FOUR REGULARS

Madison's starting lineup is identical in both games and four of the McKinley starters are regulars this year. Hayes got 12 points against the Rams last year, forward Paul Ziegschwert six, and guards Wichiser and Bob Parker, 11 and six respectively. The fifth starter on the other team, Breech, has been replaced by Webb.

The one department in which Madison will be under no serious handicap is height. McKinley averages just above the six foot

Louis Gets Two Big Fight Offers

NEW YORK — (UP) — The 20th Century club, which has promoted heavyweight champion Joe Louis' fights since 1935. was confident today that he would make his next title defense under its sponsorship in June despite lucrative offers to fight elsewhere.

While the Democratic party of Cook County, Ill., offered the Brown Bomber a guarantee of $250,000 or an option on 40 percent of the gate for a title defense in Chicago next June, and a Texas circus offered him $500,000 to appear in exhibitions, officials of 20th Century said they have been assured Louis will fight only for them

Temple Coach Quits Position

PHILADELPHIA — (AP) — If athletic officials at Temple university are looking for an experienced head football coach to succeed Ray Morrison, they need go no farther than the Owls own campus.

When Morrison unexpectedly resigned yesterday after nine years of directing Temple elevens, the city's football quarterbacks began casting about for his successor

Most prominently mentioned were two of Morrison's assistants—John (Ox) Dagrosa and Pete Stevens. Both have head coaching experience—Bagrosa at Holy Cross and Stevens at Ursinus Stevens also is a former Temple gridiron star.

Morrison declined to say what he expected to do other than that he planned to remain in football, adding "I'm going south"

The Boston Braves today were in possession of Pete Reiser's 1949 signed contract plus a certification that the former Dodger outfielder, who suffered various ailments last season, was in tip-top physical shape

The Braves, who traded Outfielder Mike McCormick to the Dodgers for Reiser during the off-season received a telegram from Dr. Robert Hyland of St Louis saying the hard luck flychaser was "physically in good shape," dental trouble was given as the cause of his dizzy spells in 1948.

In Philadelphia, the Athletics announced the signing of Pitcher Joe Coleman, who won 14 games and dropped 13 last season, and rookie Outfielder Bob Wellman, a .315 hitter with Lincoln, Neb., during 1948. The signings brought the club total to 23.

The neighboring Phillies weren't so lucky in the case of Outfielder Del Ennis, who rejected a two-year pact calling for $14,500 each season.

Ennis, who walloped 30 home runs last season, reportedly is asking for a one-year contract at a higher salary. He received $12,500 in 1948 after a three-hour conference yesterday, Phillie President Bob Carpenter said he and Ennis "were not far apart"

Carpenter however, revealed that Pitcher Hank Borowy, acquired from the Chicago Cubs, had signed his 1949 contract

The Detroit Tigers announced that First Baseman Paul Campbell and Outfielder Earl Rapp had agreed to terms for 1949.

Pitchers Joe Page and Fred (Porky) Sanford signed with the New York Yankees, bringing the club total to 12

PILES Are Never "Mild"
DANGER IN NEGLECT

No one should ever think of piles (hemorrhoids) as a "mild" disorder

Although they may seem a "mild" ailment, especially when not giving pain or inconvenience, piles are in fact tumor formation without tendency to heal themselves, instead, they are likely, if neglected, to keep increasing in size, involving more and more of the rectal area

Even a so-called "mild" case may be expected to undermine one's health, by inviting, predisposing to or aggravating other ailments, such as indigestion, biliousness, stomach trouble, constipation headaches, pain in back and down the legs, secondary anemia with its run-down tired feeling, and general nervous irritability

F-H Boxing Show Site Is Changed

The Friendly House amateur boxing tournament slated for next Monday and Tuesday will be held in the Colby-Earick show-rooms at 225 North Main street, it was announced today.

Mike Wentz, Friendly House athletic director said, in making the announcement, that the show was moved from his own gym to afford nearly twice the number of people an opportunity to see it

Enough tickets had already been sold to fill the F-H gym but an additional 300 will now be put on sale. Approximately 600 can be accommodated at Colby-Earick, Wentz believes. He assured those who have already purchased tickets that they would get the same seats as those their ducats call for.

TEMPORARY SEATS

Temporary seats will be set up in the show-rooms and a ring will be moved from the Friendly House, Wentz said The room is well-heated and lighted.

Forty-two fighters submitted entries before the deadline last night, 23 in the novice class and 19 in the open class which consists of boys having more than three fights

Among the late entries was a pair of outstanding open lightweights, Joe Neidig of Marion and Ray Figley of Mansfield.

Scribe Calls Boudreau Biggest Bargain; Gets Three Stars—All In One Package

By LAWTON CARVER
(INS Sports Editor)

NEW YORK—(INS)—Bill Veeck has landed the biggest bargain of his smart and colorful career as a baseball club-owner.

Lou Boudreau signed up cheaply no matter how impressive $80,000 a season for two years may sound.

Here is what Veeck got·

A pennant-winning manager, generally worth around $50,000 even if he sits on the bench in one of those ill-fitting uniforms that managers wear and doesn't hit or field a lick?

The game's best shortstop, value on the hoof around $20,000 conservatively, even if he is a banjo hitter

The American league's second-best hitter last season on his hitting worth $25,000, even if an ordinary fielder.

Veeck thus got himself about $95,000 worth of talent—perhaps a hundred thousand dollars worth —at a bargain basement price

Boudreau not only won the American league pennant but took his Indians made money hand over fist in their big ball park.

He batted .355 to take runner-up honors behind Ted Williams, of Boston's Red Sox, who was paid around $75,000, although he didn't manage and has never been counted among the great fielders

Boudreau led all the shortstops in fielding with an average of 975

His leadership of the Cleveland club was like electricity as they went banging to the world title, and for all of that he was paid $50 000

Veeck not only got a bargain on potentials, but on past performances He should have made that contract retroactive. As it was, he hit the jackpot with one of the most underpaid performers in all history

And we might pause at this point, while they play some soft music, and ponder the fact that a year ago Veeck was trying to fire Boudreau The Cleveland fans stopped the puasch with bitter protests and, in the final analysis, it was those fans who deserve an asset in winning the title.

The Indians could not have done it without Boudreau, and Boudreau would not have remained with the club if the fans had not interceded.

NEEDED HALF CLUB

Veeck has since explained that he needed just about half a ball club last year at the outset and he figured the best way to get it would be through sacrificing Boudreau

Somehow they came up with the other half of a club without firing their outstanding star and as another spring approaches the Indians are, at the moment, the red hot, sizzling favorites to make it two in a row.

Whether they come again will not be vitally important from a standpoint of the money invested in Boudreau The Indians will pack in the customers again, and everybody will be prosperous.

If the Indians manage to come through again, and Boudreau plays as well as he did last year, Veeck should tear up this new contract in 1950 and pay him, say, $100,000 Considering other salaries, Boudreau is worth it

Ontario Seeks 11th Win; Two Other Tilts Top Card

Ontario will go after its 11th Richland county league victory tonight at Plymouth but a pair of games involving teams farther down in the standings are expected to produce more fireworks.

Lucas will invade Lexington and Union will entertain Shiloh in the games in question. Bellville is host to Butler in the fourth scrap

Lucas, which is slowly getting experience to match its unusual heighth can tie Lexington by repeating the 39-37 upset it pulled in the first meeting of the two teams A defeat would put Lucas two games back and practically cinch the spot for Lexington but a Lucas victory will throw things wide open.

CELLAR BATTLE

The game at Union will be a "battle for the basement" with the host team attempting a recurrence of a 38-24 beating administered by the last-place Shiloh club in the first meeting Another Shiloh win will tie things up but a Union triumph will likely put the visitors in the cellar for keeps

Bellville should have little trouble getting past Butler in its pursuit of Ontario and, by the same reasoning, Ontario should beat Plymouth The Pilgrims have a high scoring combine, however, and could give the league-leaders a battle is Desmond Donnenwirth, the county's No 2 scorer is having a good night

Rhapsody In Blue
Describes the impression you will get when you step into the living room of this lovely home. Above the fireplace is a ceiling-high mirror and flanking the fireplace and mirror are open book shelves and cupboards—all painted aqua blue. This color motif is carried out in the hearth tile, the drapery cornices, and in the background of the figured wall paper., in contrast, the heavy wall-to-wall carpeting is wine colored. Small-width arch ways open into the sun room and dining room, giving width and depth to your entertainment space. Large picture window in sun room brings in the winter sunshine and light, and gives an ever-changing view of an avenue of elms and maples. The newly remodeled kitchen has double sink, white-enameled built-in cupboards and cabinets, breakfast nook, and is wired for electric range. Hardwood floors up and down. Second floor has 3 good-sized corner bedrooms and newly tiled bath with shower above built-in tub. Thermostat controlled coal furnace. 2 car detached garage. This frame home is located off W. 4th St. near Senior High. Priced at only $14,000.

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

Fight to Legalize Colored Oleo Seems Well on Way to Victory

House OK Looms For Proposal

Senate Passage Virtually Assured

COLUMBUS —(INS)—The legislative fight to legalize colored oleomargarine in Ohio appeared well on its way to victory today as the General assembly went into its fourth week-end recess.

The oleo battle, as expected, centered in the House, although bills to legalize the manufacture and sale of the yellow margarine are pending in both branches.

Senate passage is more or less assured, since a similar bill cleared the upper chamber two years ago. And even in the rurally-dominated House, the first test vote on the measure indicated that the butter interests may be losing their years-long battle.

The oleo battle shares legislative interest with stubborn Senate refusal to confirm Herbert D. Defenbacher as Governor Lausche's finance director and with the bitter inter-party wrangling in the House.

The oleo measure cleared its first hurdle in the agrarian House when the Reference committee was successful in sending it to the Committee on Commerce and Labor. Butter advocates sought unsuccessfully to send it to the Agriculture committee, which almost certainly would have been its graveyard.

The Commerce and Labor committee is more urban in its makeup and can be expected to report the bill out for a floor vote.

Both House and Senate committees will hold oleo hearings next week.

Meanwhile, the Defenbacher fight entered a new chapter during the week with two major developments.

One was the charge that Sen. William Boyd (R-Cleveland), leader of the rebel Democratic faction that is blocking the confirmation, was willing to withdraw his opposition in return for a place on the all-powerful Senate Rules committee.

Majority Leader Margaret Mahoney (D-Cleveland), however, pointed out that her own position and that of Sen. Howard Metzenbaum (D-Cleveland) already gave the state's biggest city two places on the committee, and that there was no room for a third.

It was certain that any move to give Cleveland nearly half of the seats on the seven-member committee would meet with outraged opposition on the part of the remainder of the Senate.

The other development was the indication by Governor Lausche that he may be reaching the conclusion that he need not bother with Senate confirmation of Defenbacher.

There appears to be a loop-hole in the law which provides that confirmation by the last Senate, in 1947, was sufficient to keep Defenbacher in his job.

One-at-a-Time Too Slow For Bubble-Blower

Evidentally he liked bubble gum.

That's the only explanation James Burgess of Stone's Grill on North Park street can give.

About 1:10 a. m. today, Burgess told police, seven young men, all between the ages of 18 and 25 walked in and had dinner. At the end of the meal, one of the youths asked for penny change for a dime.

Then the youth went over to the bubble gum machine on the counter and put in about 30 pennies. Suddenly, the youth picked up the bubble gum bowl and walked out. The other youths followed.

Burgess found himself too startled to make a protest.

2 Bottles of Wine Stolen at Store

Police are investigating the theft of two bottles of wine from Williams grocery, at 268 North Mulberry street, reported yesterday by the proprietor, Gentle Williams.

Galion Men Set Stage For C. of C.

Routzon Addresses Business Leaders

GALION — Galion business and industrial men took the first step last night toward organization of a Chamber of Commerce after hearing a talk by John G. Routzon, secretary-manager of the Mansfield Chamber of Commerce.

Meeting at Hotel Talbott, approximately 100 business and industrial representative named Lee Johnston, youthful Galion merchant, as acting chairman to set up a group to organize a C. of C.

Johnston then named Lawrence Bennett, merchant; B. J. Heiser, manufacturer, and Ralph Graham, financial representative as members of his committee.

The group will have an organization plan ready for presentation at the next meeting which has been set for Feb. 10. Eugene Tischer acted as temporary secretary last night.

Routzon told the men of the successful operation of the Mansfield C. of C. and what a similar organization could do for Galion.

B. J. Heiser, manufacturer, expressed the need of a cooperative group formation in Galion under the name of Chamber of Commerce. Ray Debolt, a merchant, told of such an organization from a retailers' point of view.

Rain Mars Ceremonies

Goldblum. Richard Wolford, chairman of the Richland county TB association, was master of ceremonies.

Located on the Lucas road, southeast of Mansfield, the sanatorium is being erected on ground given to the community by Mrs. Hattie Hunt and her son, Richard.

It is being built by Lewis Zahn, Mansfield contractor, at a total cost of $700,000, voted by Richland county residents, and supplemented by federal funds in the amount of $104,566. The federal funds are one-third of the sum deemed necessary for the purchase of equipment. The other two-thirds is included in the $700,000.

Ground was broken for the new sanatorium on Monday, June 21, 1948. Since then building has gone steadily forward and it is expected that by next June it will be ready for occupancy.

23 Red Cross Water Safety Courses Conducted In County

One of the biggest months of first aid classes in the history of the Red Cross chapter will end Monday.

Gerald Coron, director of the first aid and water safety program for the chapter, said there are 23 classes in progress.

Some of these classes will be starting by that time and others concluding their course of study, Coron said.

A new class in advanced first aid was started Wednesday night at the chapter house. The course will run four nights with three hours of instruction each night and will be in preparation for a later instructor course.

The instructors course will consist of two classes and will open on Feb. 14, continuing through Feb. 19. Coron will instruct in first aid and William Ryan, safety service field representative of the eastern area, will come here to teach water safety courses at the YMCA pool.

The use of the pool has been granted through the cooperation of Maurice W. Taylor, executive secretary of the YMCA.

The first aid course will be held daily from 7 to 9 p. m., and the water safety instruction class from 9 to 12 a. m. for five days.

Letters have gone out to all advanced students inviting them to attend the instructors' courses, Coron said.

One of the new first aid classes will be held in cooperation with the Junior Red Cross, which has arranged for classes for junior and senior students at Madison high school. These will start Monday.

Funeral Rites Set For Three

DAYTON — (UP) — Triple funeral services were arranged today for a mother of seven children, her premature baby which died almost immediately after birth, and her brother, who was killed while fighting on Tinian island in 1944.

A 10-day fight by doctors, relatives and friends ended here yesterday with the death of Mrs. Freda Richey, 33, who gave birth to her child by caesarian section Jan. 16. The baby died almost immediately.

The body of her brother, Marine Private Frank Feller, was returned earlier this week from Tinian island in the Pacific where he was killed Aug. 2, 1944.

volver. The robber then took Schulties' cash box, containing $47 in cash and $12 in bus tokens, and ran north on Beymiller street, Schulties told police. The empty cash box, police said, later was found at the extreme north end of Beymiller street.

Another act of violence was reported at 4:25 a. m. today, involving injuries to Aaron Young, 245½ North Main street. Police were called to General hospital where Young was given emergency treatment for lacerations of the head.

Young told officers he was walking north on North Adams street when someone called him by his nickname and that when he turned around he was struck on the head. Young said there was no robbery attempt and that his assailant fled on foot after striking him.

Steel Too Costly

WASHINGTON — (AP) — President Truman said yesterday the price of steel is too high and has always been too high. That was his only comment when asked at a news conference what he thought about the United States Steel corporation's action in declaring an extra dividend on its common stock.

How Much Is Fair Tax Load For U. S. Farmers?

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Farmers this year will pay more than $2,000,000,000 in taxes, their highest tax bill in history.

The Bureau of Agricultural Economics (BAE) says this estimate is incomplete because no satisfactory method has been devised for listing all of the taxes that farmers pay.

Tyler F. Haygood of BAE says in a report that the 1948 estimates can be compared only in a rough way with the tax studies made in earlier years. But, compared with 1930, the farm tax load apparently has increased about three times. In 1930 farmers paid around $850,000,000.

Here is the way Haygood breaks down the 1948 estimates:

Federal income taxes $960,000,000; state income taxes $40,000,000; property taxes $705,161,000; automobile taxes $260,000,000, and state sales taxes $50,000,000.

The breakdown for 1930:

Real estate $566,000,000; personal property $100,000,000; automobile $160,000,000; inheritance $10,000,000; income taxes $8,000,000; poll taxes $6,000,000.

The great increase in income taxes is due to three things:

1. The rise in the federal income tax rate.
2. An increase in the number of states with income taxes.
3. Hight farm income in recent years.

Haygood's report raises this issue:

Have farmers' tax payments increased out of proportion to those of other groups?

He says this question is asked many times but that it can't be answered satisfactorily until more careful studies have been made.

Undoubtedly the rise in income and sales taxes has altered the tax load carried by the two classes of citizens, farm and city. How much, nobody knows.

Another unanswered question is how much each group of citizens—the farmer and the city dweller—benefits from such facilities as schools and roads. Farm-to-market roads benefit both the farmer and the buyer of his produce. What is the share of benefit for each?

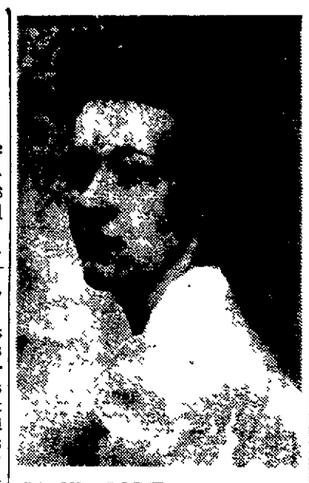
This raises the problem of making a sharp distinction between the facilities each level of government should provide.

In some states taxes for roads and schools are primarily state levies.

In other states most of the funds for roads and schools may come from county or other local taxes.

In states where some or more school and road taxes are raised by a sales tax, much of the money is contributed by people with non-farm income. But if the schools and roads are paid for from property tax funds, levied by county or other local government, a much greater tax burden may be shifted to the property owner, including the farmer.

So it comes down to a question of developing a yardstick to measure the responsibility of each group of citizens for providing various improvements. Then it can be decided whether each group of citizens is contributing its share.



PLANS DRIVE—Mrs. N. J. Marion heads the township group for the annual Red Cross roll call. With her will work Mrs. Robert Henry, co-chairman, Mrs. K. M. Willson, in charge of the southern part of the county and Mrs. Dewey Reynolds, northern part of county. Mrs. Beatrice Balyeat of the Red Cross staff will assist the group in carrying out the campaign program, planned at a meeting Wednesday night.

Fog Lights Stolen From Parked Cars

Theft of fog lights from two cars, parked in the south end of the city Wednesday night, was reported to police yesterday.

N. M. Polles, 178 Wolfe avenue, reported his lights, valued at $8, were taken while his car was parked in front of his home. Guy Rowan, 392 South Diamond street, reported a pair of fog lights and back-up light, valued at $15, were stolen from his auto while parked at the rear of his home.

Halts Barber Training

VA to Close Program Feb. 28

The Veterans Administration's program of on-the-job training for barber apprentices will end Feb. 28, the Mansfield VA office has been informed.

This is the second on-the-job training program discontinued by the VA since the inauguration of the "GI Bill". On-the-job training for law school graduates was discontinued in 1946.

G. D. Weidemaier, manager of the Mansfield VA office, said: "From all information we can gather, there is no indication that other programs will be affected".

A second VA official, C. A. Swain, said:

"If the VA administrator finds other on-the-job training programs not meeting the criteria of Public Law 346 (as amended), these programs probably will be dropped also".

Swain is the acting chief of the vocational, rehabilitation, and education section of the local VA office, and has direct jurisdiction over on-the-job training programs.

Speaking for the area barber apprenticeship council, Harry J. Mapes said, "This discontinuing of subsistence to veteran apprentice barbers by the VA, may quite easily lead to this same practice in other trades".

Mapes is area secretary of the Ohio apprenticeship program of barbers, and is a veteran himself.

Camera Stolen

Daniel Shultz, of Beal road, reported to the sheriff's office yesterday that a German camera, valued at $75 was stolen from his car while it was parked at Max's on U. S. Route 30-S. He said a brown leather case also was taken.

Health Commissioner Urges Men to Attend Cancer Clinic

Dr. Harry Wain, city - county health commissioner today, reminded Mansfield men that Feb. 15 is the next cancer clinic night for men.

He said women are still making a better attendance record at the clinic then men.

"Cancer is not only a women's disease," Dr. Wain explained. "Statistics show that 48 per cent deaths due to cancer is found in men and the remainder in women.

"Men must remember that they are the breadwinner and there are others dependent upon them. The important thing is that hope for a cure rests in early detection."

The health commissioner added that persons making appointments to the clinic and them finding themselves unable to attend, should report their cancelations to allow some one else to be booked for an examination.

Attendance at the clinic has been stepped up, Dr. Wain said, and appointments can be had on two or three weeks' notice.

Insurance Agency Rates High In Sales

The Mansfield agency of the Ohio State Life Insurance company took second place in the volume of insurance produced in December among all the company's agencies in the country, Robert F. Horn, general agent, announced today. W. Vernon Smith, J. Howard Culler, Charles H. Hornbrook, A. B. Chison, and Boyd Montgomery qualified for membership in the company's leading producers clubs, Horn said.

Who's A Foreigner?

While I'm waiting for a haircut the other day, Slim Hartman lets slip with a crack about those "foreigners" who live by the depot.

"Now wait a minute, Slim," snaps Doc Sherman. "Don't forget we're all 'foreigners' more or less. Some of our families have simply been here longer than others. But even if they came over on the Mayflower, they were foreigners to the Indians."

Slim gets a little red and you could see that Doc had him. "And the reason they came here," he goes on, "was to find freedom to do and think as they wanted to so long as they didn't tramp on the rights of the other fellow."

From where I sit, America became the great land it is today through our being tolerant of different people and different tastes—whether it's a taste for square dancing or waltzing, radio or movies, goat's milk or a temperate glass of sparkling beer.

Bumper Vegetable Supplies Force Market Price Down

(By Associated Press)

Bumper supplies of several winter vegetables pushed prices lower this week in many cities across the nation as meat and dairy products held generally steady following recent declines.

The price of new cabbage was so low in some places that wholesalers said growers probably would refuse to send further shipments if it went any lower.

Carrots and beets also were cheaper, and bumper receipts of kale, collards, parsnips and turnips held prices down. Onion prices were more than 75 per cent lower than a year ago as the government reported stocks on hand up 64 per cent in about the same period.

String beans, already easing in price this week, were expected to decline further as the big Florida crop reaches the markets in a week or so after production delays caused by recent cold weather.

Livestock men in the Rocky Mountain and northern plains hoped cattle and sheep losses from starvation in the heavy snow could be held below five per cent. Even that amount, some meat sources said, would have little impact on the nation's overall meat supply since it is estimated that this loss would still be less than one per cent of the U.S. livestock total.

Trade sources said veal prices have declined less than the average for all meats since the September highs. This was attributed to shorter supplies caused by growers withholding young calves to replenish herds which had been reduced when feed prices were high.

Fancy roasting chickens were scarce in many markets for much the same reason. Poultrymen were reserving their better birds for breeding purposes.

Completion of Sanatorium Visioned

IN A COLD, DRIZZLING RAIN, a hundred persons yesterday participated in ceremonies at the laying of the cornerstone of the new Richland County Tuberculosis Sanatorium.

The brief ritual, planned to include words of dedication from the Protestant, Catholic and Jewish faiths, and the huddled crowd, were impressive in the very fact that they provided contrast to the large structure whose walls are already rising from the ground.

And the mist which covered the hills could not entirely conceal the splendid panorama which unfolds on all sides from the sanatorium site.

Appropriately, the silver trowel was handed to Richard Hunt, who, with his mother, Mrs. Hattie Hunt, had donated the ground for the building.

Despite gloomy skies, the day indeed marked a triumph for the citizens of Richland county who twice voted bond issues to pay for the $800,000 hospital where the age-old battle against tuberculosis can be carried on with the most modern of weapons.

How Much Should Mayor Be Paid?

WHAT SALARY should Mansfield pay a mayor, in order to make that office attractive to some recognizedly competent person with qualifications comparable to those required for sound management of a big business?

The present salary of $5,300, which has been in effect for only two years, is now regarded as insufficient to be appealing to anyone who has the experience, training, knowledge of law, and other qualifications which seem necessary to capable performance of the varied duties of chief executive of a city of Mansfield's size.

Some suggest a salary increase to $7,500, others go as high as $10,000, which would approximate the minimum at which it could be expected to employ an efficient city manager, should that plan eventually be adopted.

A look at earlier salaries of Mansfield mayors provides an interesting sidelight on this city's growth, and resultant increase in financial requirements.

Before the turn of the century, for instance, when T. F. Black, R. B. McCrory and J. P. Henry were among those who served as mayor, the salary was $1,000 a year—which seemed enough to justify some lively political contests.

Not until 1904, during one of the three terms of Huntington Brown, was the annual pay raised to $1,200—and at that time $100 a month wasn't bad, although "Hunt," as he was known, was not dependent on his salary as mayor.

By 1910 there had been another boost to $1,500; in 1920, at the start of the second of Henry G. Brunner's three terms, to $3,000; in 1928 to $3,600; next to $4,000; in 1944 to $4,500, and at the start of 1948 to the present $5,300.

When it is considered that this is only slightly more than $100 a week—which many now regard as in the lower income bracket—it can be seen that even reasonable capability can scarcely be expected of those who seek to gain—or retain—the office . . . unless they have other sources of income aside from salary.

Rebellion Against Rent Controls

APPEARANCE of widespread rebellion of landlords against proposed extension of federal rent controls, with threat of eviction of thousands of families from rental property, is unlikely to gain the public sympathy that would be needed to accomplish desired ends.

It seems more like a vast lobbying movement than actual intent to "withdraw property from the rental market" unless rent controls are removed.

It is difficult to imagine that any considerable number of property owners would sanction the idea of evicting rent-paying tenants during this critical housing shortage, realizing that many people would thus be left homeless.

In the event of such inhuman action it would appear reasonable that the ordinary processes of law be temporarily disregarded and that eviction notices be made ineffective until other living quarters became available.

It is regrettable, of course, that there is need for continuance of anything in the way of rent controls, but the extent to which some property owners have taken advantage of the housing shortage to boost rents beyond reasonable bounds argues strongly for such a safeguard against inordinate greed.

It is equally desirable that controls be sufficiently flexible to assure owners a fair return on invested capital and maintenance costs on rental property—with each case judged on its merits.

Believe What They Are Told

WILLIAM L WHITE reminds us in his new book, "Land of Milk and Honey," that only one Russian out of five has anything more than a child's recollection of the country in the pre-Soviet days. Wars, purges and early deaths have carried off many older citizens.

Thus it may be supposed that the average Russian believes about earlier days what he is told by the government, no matter how incredible. He remembers nothing else, and is kept, as far as possible, from contact with the outside world.

The weak spots in this wall of blindness are two: the radio, and the contact of Russian soldiers with the superior comforts of Western Europe. What will be the effects of these two elements?

Noting that a manufacturer has brought out an auto with three wheels, Clyde Moore views this as evolution in reverse. "Another decade," he fears, "will find man right back where he started this mechanized business—pushing a wheelbarrow."

Someone now comes up with information that William Henry Harrison delivered the longest inaugural address—8,578 words—in case anyone cares to know.

What Some Other People Are Saying

HUGH SCOTT, GOP national chairman: "It is my conviction that Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York will not under any circumstances and cannot be the nominee of the Republican party in 1952."

* * *

SEN. HENRY CABOT LODGE JR.: "I think the civil rights issue is fundamental."

* * *

LIEUT. COL. GEORGI TOKAYEV, self-exiled Soviet officer: "Russian soldiers are being instilled with a blind, fanatical hatred of the United States and Britain in feverish preparation for a new war."

Washington Calling

What Course For GOP?

By MARQUIS CHILDS

OMAHA, Neb. —The members of the Republican national committee meeting here are not quite sure, for the most part what they are meant to do.

Their uncertainty grows out of the split personality which the party presents to the country in this sad aftermath of a defeat so total and so totally unexpected.

It is inaccurate, it seems to me, to present the split in ideological terms.

This meeting, at any rate, is concerned with something far more practical. That is, who shall hold the reins of power in the coming months?

The present chairman of the committee, Rep. Hugh D. Scott, jr., of Philadelphia, was put in that office by Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, after Governor Dewey's nomination.

Many of the committee members had never seen him, or for that matter even heard of him before he walked into the room as the anointed designate of the Dewey managers. Mr. Scott's position was not an easy one since the day-to-day direction of the Dewey campaign was done by Herbert Brownell jr.

Senator Taft and many others in Congress, including some who disagree with the Taft point of view, argue that the national committee has no right to try to set policy. That is not, they insist, the function of the committee, which is, in essence, housekeeper and treasurer for the party.

* * *

Looking Toward 1952.

REPUBLICANS in 1950 must run on the record of Congress. That is the argument of these responsible leaders and it seems to make sense.

When Senator Taft went to visit Governor Dewey shortly after the Philadelphia convention of last June, the nominee told him he was going to conduct a campaign of sweetness and light. He used just those words, adding that he had always won on sweetness and light, and had lost when he got into controversy.

Never conspicuous as an apostle of sweetness and light, Senator Taft did not argue. But he felt strongly that it would be impossible to ignore the record of the 80th Congress as Governor Dewey intended to do. In some way or other it had to be faced up to. What happened on Nov. 2 seems to have proved this correct.

Looking ahead to 1950, Senator Taft and those who think like him would steer a cautious course in the 81st Congress. As he has done before, the Ohio Senator will support education, housing and a limited form of medical aid.

He recognizes that these and similar reforms long advocated will cost additional money.

But he believes that with economies elsewhere it will be possible to avoid a tax increase. Senator Taft will stoutly oppose any additional levy on business or on individuals.

This cautious wait-and-go-slow approach implies a belief that there will be a strong reaction to the extremes of the Truman program. Thanks in considerable part to that anticipated reaction the Republicans believe they will capture control of the Senate in 1950.

They believe their chances are good for taking Democratic seats in California, Connecticut, Idaho, Illinois, Kentucky, Maryland, Nevada, New York, Oklahoma, Pennsylvania, Utah and Washington.

No matter how fine or brave or angry the words spoken here, the balance of power is likely to rest with the Republicans in Congress. It is their bacon that is at stake.

Another defeat in '50 would make the chances for the presidential year of 1952 look slim. And a party out of power 20 years is not a lame duck. It is a dead duck.

The Nation Today

An Unplanned 'Plan'

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON — President Truman's "bold, new plan" for helping backward countries is still vague and shadowy.

True, there is plenty of talk here about it. And government officials have been asked about it. They're vague, too.

* * *

The reason: The "bold, new plan" President Truman mentioned in his inaugural address doesn't exist in detail. Now it's up to his lieutenants in the government to draw up such a plan.

This may seem startling. The President confidently mentions a plan which hasn't been worked out.

But, if you remember, that's just the way the Marshall Plan for helping Europe started more than a year and a half ago.

The then Secretary of State Marshall made a talk at Harvard June 5, 1947.

In it he suggested vaguely that if the European countries wanted further American help they should figure out a program for getting it.

It was as simple, and loose as that. To be sure of that, I looked up a piece I wrote on Marshall's talk four days after he made it. And in it I wrote:

"Has anyone in the state department figured out exactly how this European get-together program can be set up?

"This writer inquired at the state department but could get no 'Yes' answer. So at this moment Marshall's proposal seems a pretty vague thing.

"It didn't spring suddenly out of his head. There's been talk here for weeks that some organized relief and reconstruction plan for Europe is needed."

* * *

Thoughtfully Uttered.

AND, it seems, Mr. Truman's "bold, new plan" didn't spring suddenly out of his head.

In the first place, his inaugural speech was carefully written. And there's been talk here of doing something to help develop countries that need development.

But Europe took Marshall at his word and very shortly after his speech 16 European countries met at Paris to work out the Marshall Plan.

Those countries and this government labored at the problem for months and it wasn't until well into 1948 that Congress finally approved it and voted the money to give American help.

Whatever comes of Mr. Truman's "plan" is sure to take many months of work, too.

There's a chance, to be sure, that the "plan" may never be worked out or, if it is, that Congress won't approve.

That would put Mr. Truman on a spot: Of talking to the world about a "plan" that never really became a plan at all.

If all this seems strange—the vague beginning for both the Marshall Plan and the "bold, new plan"—it's because:

History is the story of men trying to build a road . . . or a roadblock.

Sometimes they'll try one, sometimes the other. They'll shift, and change, and improvise to fit a purpose or solve a problem.

Since this country doesn't have any long-range, world-wide plan for stopping communism, sometimes it has to play by ear and do what it thinks necessary at any given time.

LIFE'S LIKE THAT

Washington Merry-Go-Round

State Department Displeases Senators

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—Certain Democratic senators are boiling mad at the state department and even irked at the White House for trying to tell them not to support United Nations policy regarding the Dutch in Indonesia.

The incident is extremely significant. It may indicate what some diplomats have suspected, that the state department was talking loud about forcing the Dutch to pipe down in Indonesia, while playing footsie with the Dutch under the table.

Here is the inside story of what happened. Last week, twelve senators drafted a resolution vigorously supporting United States' and United Nations' positions regarding Dutch highhandedness in Indonesia. Most of the resolution simply repeated the U. S.-U. N. demands that the Dutch release political prisoners and retreat to their original lines.

Then the senators added one more clause. They proposed that if Holland did not comply with U. S.-U. N. demands, all Marshall Plan aid be cut off to both the Dutch East Indies and Holland. The United States has already cut off ECA aid to the Dutch East Indies but not to Holland.

When the state department heard about this, however, Acting Secretary of State Lovett slipped over to the White House and sounded the alarms. The White House then phoned Senate Secretary Les Biffle, who in turn called Senate majority leader Scott Lucas of Illinois, plus Senators Pepper of Florida and Johnson of Colorado.

The resolution, the senators were told, would be most embarrassing. They were asked to kill it.

* * *

Are Senators Puppets?

NO EXPLANATION was given as to why the state department was opposed, since the resolution was almost identical with the position already taken by the state department at Lake Success.

Nevertheless, the senators were asked to desist. Senator Pepper, who has just become a member of the Senate foreign relations committee, and who is on intimate terms with the President, asked that his name be withdrawn. Most others stuck by their guns.

Remarked Senator Chavez of New Mexico: "What do they expect us to do—just appropriate the money for 'em?"

"I can't recall," observed Ed Johnson of Colorado, "that the Senate has abdicated its right to ratify treaties and play its constitutional part in foreign policy."

Note — Other senators who signed the resolution included: Hill and Sparkman of Alabama; Magnuson of Washington; Gillette of Iowa; Kilgore and Neely of West Virginia; Murray of Montana, Malone of Nevada (Rep.).

* * *

How Dutch Finance War.

A SIGNIFICANT conversation has been taking place in Europe. The Dutch have told Field Marshal Montgomery that they can't afford to assume their proportionate responsibility under the defense pact because of the heavy cost of military operations in Indonesia.

Indonesian operations for one year cost the Dutch $436,000,000 During that same year, the Dutch received $476,000,000 of Marshall Plan money from us.

In other words, the USA really is paying for the war in Indonesia, yet the Dutch claim they can't afford to pay their share of the Western Europe Defense Pact.

Note—Inside reason why some state department officials are jittery about pushing the Dutch too far in Indonesia is for fear they'll pull out of the defense pact. If so, point out realistic diplomats, where else can the Dutch go—into the arms of Russia, with 90 per cent of their population vigorously anti-Russian?

Electricity Famine.

PRESIDENT TRUMAN was talking to Senator Magnuson and Representative Hugh Mitchell of Washington about a proposed deal with Canada for water storage in British Columbia, from which the Pacific Northwest could draw hydroelectric power. The Northwest power shortage, they told the President, was due chiefly to the big aluminum plants built there during the war.

"Well, that's your fault," said Truman, eyeing Magnuson.

"How do you mean?" inquired the dashing young bachelor senator.

"I mean that you wouldn't rest until you got those aluminum plants established in your state," chuckled Truman, obviously remembering his Senate days when Magnuson had been lobbying to locate war industries in the Northwest. "What do you want us to do—take them away from you?"

"Oh, no," replied the amused Magnuson. "The situation isn't that critical."

Congressman Mitchell commended Truman for "recognizing the needs" of the Northwest by approving plans for a Columbia River Authority, which will expand and coordinate electric power, flood control and reclamation facilities in Washington, Oregon, Idaho, Montana, Nevada and Utah.

"I can't honestly take credit for that," deprecated Truman. "The problem we face in the Northwest wouldn't exist if the proper planning had been done in the first place."

Barkley Prefers Work

By INEZ ROBB

NEW YORK—A distinguished public servant once said that the secret of success in politics hinges on keeping one's pants pressed and never volunteering for anything above and beyond the call of absolute duty.

Only time can tell whether Alben W. Barkley is smart in volunteering to do more in the vice-presidency than he's paid for.

As vice president, Mr. Barkley is paid to preside over the Senate. The Constitution prescribes this as his sole duty. By sticking to the book, Mr. Barkley can collect the new V-P salary of $30,000 annually plus another ten G's for expenses.

As president of the Senate, Mr. Barkley raps the gavel at high noon when the Senate begins its sessions. From then on, he strives to keep order in the chamber and tells the boys when to break in the verbal clinches.

He must also try to keep enough senators on the floor to transact business and discourage any from audible sleeping at their desks.

Then he raps the gavel again when it is time for the senators to call it a day. This may not seem like an over-burdensome job. But remember, Mr. Barkley has to listen to 'em!

It may be this factor, this obligation to listen to senators while presiding over their deliberations, that has caused Mr. Barkley to volunteer, in his words, for other tasks "beyond the mere technical duty of presiding over the Senate."

Because it is within Mr. Barkley's power, when he has listened to all the yackety-yak he can stand, to hand over the gavel to any senator he feels like picking on for the day.

Then, Mr. Barkley, rated as one of the most able men in Washington, would be available to give a helping hand to the actual administration of the government's executive branch.

* * *

Could Help President.

FOR THE past 20 years, there have been increasing cries that the presidency itself is a man-killing job, with duties too vast for any individual.

Well, Mr. Barkley has volunteered. It will be very interesting to see what duties he may be assigned by his boss, Harry S. Truman, or if he is asked to assume any duties at all.

There has been much talk in recent years about giving the vice-president something to do beyond riding herd on senators. This administration has an opportunity to begin exploring the honest possibilities for expanded service in the second highest office in the land.

In addition to his prescribed chore as president of the Senate, the vice president from time immemorial has been the President's eater-outer. By custom, the President seldom dines away from the White House.

At 71, Mr. Barkley, a handsome and dignified man, is not apt to become a playboy. Since the United States has always been too stingy to provide a residence for its vice presidents, Mr. Barkley lives quietly in the comfortable apartment at 2101 Connecticut Ave., which was famous for many years as the apartment of the late Senator William E. Borah.

The vice president, a widower, is the only person in Washington who doesn't have servant troubles. For the past 26 years, he has been looked after by a devoted colored couple, Parker and Lulu Ricks. No one, not even Mr. Barkley's son and daughter, are as proud of his elevation to the vice-presidency as Parker and Lulu.

Mr. Brakley does have one interesting prerequisite of office not usually understood by his countrymen. As president of the Senate, a title as official as that of vice president, he is always addressed as "Mr. President," never as "Mr. Vice President."

Mr. Barkley has as much rightful, legal and lawful claim to the title as Mr. Truman. Confusin' and amusin', but true.

Farmer's Diary

Food For Good Health

By CALVIN A. BYERS

WHEN Robert McCarrison of England became director of research on nutrition in India, he made history by his experiments with rats.

The people of India are not all dwarfs, emaciated and hollow-chested—many tribes, especially in northern India, are sturdy, long lived, and vital. McCarrison noticed that the physique of the people varied according to their habitual diet.

The Bengali and Madrassi were small, lacking in vitality, they lived mostly on rice, with little or no milk or meat, and few vegetables. The Hunzas, Mahrattas, Sikhs and Pathans were stalwart. Their diet consisted—and always had—of whole cereal grain (mainly wheat), milk, vegetables and abundant fruits, apricots, etc., with meat occasionally.

To confirm his suspicion that diet made all the difference, McCarrison experimented by feeding a cage of rats according to the same ration as each of the various tribes.

In 140 days he had made findings that corresponded to 12 years in the life of a man. And his pets, the albino rats, became sick or well, happy or moping, prolific or sterile, according to what they ate.

* * *

WHEN the United Nations conference on food and agriculture met at Hot Springs, Va., in June, 1943, this was part of their report: "A sound food and nutrition policy must be adopted by each government if national diets are to be progressively improved, specific deficiency diseases eliminated and good health achieved."

"Given the will we have the power to build in every nation a people more fit, more vigorous, more competent; a peole with longer, more productive lives, and with more physical and mental stamina than the world has ever known. Such prospects, remote though they may be, should serve as a stimulus in undertaking immediate tasks and overcoming immediate obstacles."

* * *

WHO knows what diet we need to produce an A-1 nation? Do doctors? If so, who don't they tell the world and lead the way toward health? (Some of them do—but most do not even eat right themselves). Organized effort is needed to insist on proper teaching of nutrition in our public schools.

How many teachers are living examples of successful diet? Faulty food habits are fixed by prejudice and custom—and by advertising. We prosecute dealers who peddle horse meat to our public school cafeterias — as in Houston, Texas, last year—but every day we listen to radio advertising of so-called foods and beverages, from a nutritional standpoint, that are worse than slop! Isn't it about time that intelligent people begin to demand genuine food for genuine HEALTH?

TIFFIN MAN LOSES 40 LBS. WITH RENNEL

"I cannot say enough for what Rennel has done for me," writes Mr. D. S. Ladd, Box 805, Tiffin, Ohio. "I am 67 years of age. Since taking Rennel I have lost 40 lbs. and feel so much better."

It's simple. It's amazing, how quickly one may lose pounds of bulky, unsightly fat right in your own home. Make this re-duce yourself. It's easy—no trouble at all and costs little. It contains nothing harmful. Just go to your druggist and ask for four ounces of liquid Rennel Concentrate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill the bottle. Then take two tablespoonsful twice a day. That's all there is to it.

If the very first bottle doesn't show the simple, easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves; if reducible pounds and inches of excess fat don't just seem to disappear almost like magic from neck, chin, arms, bust, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles, just return the empty bottle for your money back. Follow the easy way endorsed by many who have tried this plan and help bring back alluring curves and graceful slenderness. Note how quickly bloat disappears, how much better you feel. More alive, youthful appearing and active.

Horoscope

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Saturday, January 29

It is advisable to spend the long weekend in a careful analysis of the current uncertain state of affairs, by inaugurating ways and means for a fresh start, based on unusual or exceptional factors in which shrewd, tactful and intriguing situations may have power to turn the tide into safer channels The sagacious sizing-up of critical elements may invite the powerful influence of those impressed by initiative and acumen. Friendly forces may lend aid to new but experimental developments. Higher-ups are friendly to fresh policies.

For the Birthday

Those whose birthday it is may find their own ingenuity and skill in inaugurating fresh ways and means of attacking static situations or complications, aided by the friendly intervention of interested personages in standing and influence. Increased capital, wise suggestions and timely aid may promote threatened matters, these probably due to unusual factors, with subtle and perplexing angles. Hidden factors, vague or intangible elements, come into the open, and may have power to make dreams or fancies "come true." Odd circumstances may be capitalized by fresh slants or intuitive drives.

A child born on this day may have obscure or dubious mental slants, assisted by imagination, intuition or strange "hunches." In this, aid from important persons may have practical force in shaping its eventual destiny.

Scott Keeps GOP Post

OMAHA, NEB. — (AP) — Hugh D. Scott jr., held a shaky reed of authority over the Republican National committee today in a trial run of his chairmanship.

Some members, like Rep. Clarence Brown of Ohio, thought it might be no more than six months before Scott's hard-won retention of his office is challenged again.

The 48-year old Pennsylvania congressman, hand picked by Gov. Thomas E. Dewey for his party job, had a slender 54 to 50 vote of committee confidence hanging on his belt.

Harry Darby of Kansas, one of Scott's chief supporters in the bitterest fight to split the Republican party since the Bull Moose movement of 1912, told a reporter things are a lot better than they look on the surface.

Talks on Hotel Problems

The problems and unusual experiences of hotel men were recounted to a meeting of the Kiwanis club yesterday at the Mansfield-Leland hotel by Capt. H. Mowrey, executive secretary of the Ohio Hotels association.

Mowrey told the club most hotel guests were harmless enough but the rest create such major headaches for hotel men that managers are inclined to become skeptical of the human race.

He went on to tell of some of the tricks guests use to steal hotel goods and pass bad checks.

The speaker was introduced by Joseph Wright, manager of Mansfield-Leland hotel. Program chairman for the meeting was Lee Birch BUCYRUS — Two more Bucyrians have filed their candidacies for seats on Bucyrus city council with the Crawford County Board of Elections here.

Ellsworth D. Stansbery, 36, an electrical maintenance worker at the Shunk Manufacturing company here, is a candidate for Second ward councilman, and Councilman Joseph H. Crawford March of Dimes Campaign Gets Under Way

BUCYRUS — The 1949 "March of Dimes campaign was launched in Crawford county today with the placing of more than 100 containers for individual contributions in stores, banks, taverns, lodges and public places.

The campaign is under the direction of Prosecutor Leo J. Scanlon who is chairman of the Crawford county chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

Chairman Scanlon reported that the chapter had expenditures totaling more than $6,000 for treatment of 13 polio cases in the county last year. He said hospital and medical treatment to date has cost $4,558 and unpaid bills amount to about $1,500.

It was pointed out that each of the 13 persons who contracted the disease last year received aid from the chapter, which paid hospital and and doctor bills, examination fees, bills for needed braces and ambulance fees.

Only one of the 13 persons still remain in a hospital, Mr. Scanlon stated.

The fund campaign will last two weeks. Last year collections amounted to $2,819, one half of that amount remaining in the county while the remainder went to the national foundation.

Tag Day Set On March 12

A tag day for Mansfield and Richland county residents to benefit the Richland Rural Life Center will be held March 12 by members of the 4-H club council and all participating 4-H club groups of the county, C N McGrew, county agent, announced today.

The project was planned at a meeting of the 4-H club council Tuesday night. Members of the Tag Day committee will include the ways and means committee of the Rural Life Center and two members of the council.

Ways and means committee members are Harry Stroup, chairman; Max McFarland and Ralph Oswalt The two from the 4-H council are Miss Ruth Brook of Washington township and Mrs Harold Tinley of Madison Township.

Since the Center will benefit 4-H club groups throughout the county, probably more than any have helped in various ways to get started. They built the garage at the new Floyd Reding home on the 80-acre farm in Weller township, location of the Center. They will assist in the remodeling of the old barn into a dining room and recreation hall and are planning to lend a hand wherever they can in the reconstruction at the Center, McGrew said.

Hit-Skipper Fined $125

George Moga, of Mansfield, R. D. 2, was fined $125 and costs and lost his right to drive for a year after he pleaded guilty in municipal court today to a charge of leaving the scene of an accident.

Police said Moga was involved in two hit-skip accidents last night. The first occurred at 11:28 p. m., when Moga, heading east on East Fifth street, turned south onto Newman street, striking the parked car of Joseph Outlaw, 575 Lily street.

He continued south, police said, striking a parked car of Herman Graska, 258 Jefferson street, which was on Newman street, near Orange street.

Homer A. Thomas, 309 Chester street, was sentenced to 10 days in the county jail on an assault and battery charge brought by Elizabeth Etzwiler, of the same address.

In other traffic cases, fines of $10 and costs were assessed against Harry Darling, of Perrysville, for failing to yield the right-of-way, Paul Welsh, of Loudonville, for speeding, and Charles Fike, of Bellville, for passing a school bus while it was discharging passengers.

Kenneth Hoffman, of Delaware, forfeited a $25 bond for failing to appear to answer a charge of crossing the yellow line.

Theft of 'Dimes' Box Brings Plan For Safeguarding Funds

Report of the theft of a "March of Dimes" collection box, made to Mansfield police Thursday, brought a suggestion today from Marshall Moore, treasurer of the Richland county chapter of the National Foundation of Infantile Paralysis.

The "March of Dimes" box was reported stolen from the Fairview Hotel bar between 1 a. m. and 9 a. m. Thursday.

Moore today urged operators of business places in Mansfield and Richland county displaying the collection boxes to empty them each day and place the money in a safe place until the drive ends.

"Each year we have reports of boxes being stolen," Moore said. "Considering that Richland county will need every cent that can be collected to continue assistance to polio cases now being treated, as well as any new cases that might be reported during the year, these thefts can seriously affect the Foundation's work here."

Moore explained that the tops of the "March of Dimes" boxes can easily be removed by taking off the tape covering, and are replaceable.

Such a plan, if adopted by the merchants in Mansfield and Richland county, would go far to assure the success of the drive to raise $8,000, Moore said.

Firemen Called To Tire Plant

Firemen from the Central, No. 2 and No. 4 stations were called to the Mansfield Tire and Rubber company at 8:19 a. m. today to extinguish a fire in a dust collector at the east side of the plant.

The fire, which was restricted to the ventilator, destroyed the installation.

Tax Collections Reach $264,724

A total of $264,724 has been collected in property taxes since payments began for the first half of 1949. County Treasurer Charles C. Payne said today. Yesterday tax payments were $34,396. The charge for the first half of the year is $1,184.140. Final date for payment is Feb. 21.

FALSE ALARM

Firemen from the Central station answered a false alarm at the Cleveland Grain company, North Main street, at 12:30 p. m. today. The call- came in on the automatic alarm system.

Settle Big Damage Suit

A $50,000 damage suit was dismissed when the parties decided to settle out of court, a Common Pleas court journal entry disclosed today.

Edward E. Brown dismissed a petition with prejudice against Aztec Lines, Inc. The amount for which the case was settled was not revealed.

Brown filed a petition in May, asking $50,000 for personal injuries and damages to his car growing out of an accident Sept. 25, 1946. Brown had charged that the negligence of the driver of a tractor-trailer, owned by the Aztec company, was the cause of a collision between the truck and his car on U. S. Route 30-N near Mansfield.

Wait For Evidence, Axis Sally Pleas

WASHINGTON — (INS) — "Axis Sally" asked the American people today to withhold their judgment of the treason charges against her until all the evidence is in at her district court trial.

"Sally"—American-born Mildred E. Gillars—sent the message from her District of Columbia jail cell, where she is spending the weekend awaiting resumption of her trial Monday.

Water requires more heat to warm it and more cold to cool it than any other common substance.

Kissin' Jim Ain't Had Political Honeymoon Yet, But He'll Get It

MONTGOMERY, Ala—(AP)—The governor of Alabama planked one big foot on the drawing room sofa, stretched another long leg on the coffee table and said:

"I ain't had my political honeymoon, but I'm going to get it. The people are going to insist on it.

"The people say, 'Why don't they let Big Jim alone?' The people in the streets and the people at the branch heads—they demand a man having his chance. And I ain't had mine."

Two years after winning the governorship by the biggest vote in Alabama history, "Kissing Jim" Folsom feels his program has been blocked by a legislature that won't cooperate with him.

He calls the legislature "My loyal opposition" and "My little 80th Congress. It meets this year, and Big Jim says it had better do right by him this time—or else.

Easing his six-foot-eight-inch frame deep into the sofa, he said:

"I been in two years now. Morally, essentially and executively speaking, my administration has been a success.

"But my legislative record is a failure. The legislature hasn't followed ..what the people endorsed. I haven't had the political honeymoon that any governor is supposed to get. And the people are saying if Big Jim don't get it this year from the legislature, then he'll get it next year in the election."

As he spoke his pretty, brown-haired wife, soon to be a mother, played an old tune on a piano in an upstairs room of the executive mansion. It was "The Missouri Waltz".

Big Jim cocked his head and smiled.

"That's my favorite tune," he said. Folsom's current hero in American politics is Harry Truman. He says his state program for Alabama is the same as the Truman national program. And he feels like Truman, he has had an uphill fight.

Kissing Jim divides Alabama's population into two classes —the "got rocks", who are agin him, and "the people", who are for him. He doesn't include anybody who opposes him in the "the people".

"When I was elected," he said, "only four out of 167 Alabama papers supported me. Five mayors were for me, and 237 mayors against me. I know of only two bankers who were for me—out of more than 300. And only three out of 67 county political organizations. All the big corporations were against me."

Big Jim doesn't feel the line up against him has changed much since then. And it probably hasn't.

"I went to brachheads just like Truman went to the whistle stops", he grinned, running a huge hand through his heavy mop of dark hair.

Big Jim still has two years to serve. Under state law he can't succeed himself.

"I think they're going to be two interesting years," he said. "I'm going to have me my political honeymoon no matter how hard the 'got rocks' try to gut me."

There was a piano in the drawing room. There was a piece of sheet music on it. The title!

"I am thine, O Lord".

State Asks Re-hearing Of OSR Case

Irregularities In Habeas Case Charged

An application for a re-hearing of the case of Bobbie Dale Reynolds, 25, of Canton, released Wednesday from the Reformatory on a writ of habeas corpus, was filed yesterday by the Attorney General.

The application was filed with the clerk of courts and asks the Fifth district Court of Appeals, which granted the writ for a new hearing. The application was filed by Attorney General Herbert S. Duffey and Assistant Attorney General Walter R. Hill.

The application contends that the finding of the court in granting the writ of habeas corpus is contrary to the evidence, and adds that the judgment of the Stark county common pleas court in sentencing Reynolds is not subject to collateral attack by a writ of habeas corpus.

The application further contends that the irregularity claimed after Reynolds was tried and convicted cannot be corrected by habeas corpus. The application also said the re-hearing is necessary that the case may be properly decided and the propositions of law satisfactorily determined for the guidance of the lower courts of the state in future similar proceedings.

The court granted a writ of habeas corpus after Reynolds' mother, Mrs. Ruth F. Reynolds contended Reynolds was incompetent when he was sentenced to the reformatory from Stark county, having previously been beclared incompetent in the probate court there.

The court also found that Reynolds, a war veteran, had been in several governmental hospitals for mental illness. The court ruled, in granting the writ, that Reynolds was without legal capacity to enter a plea of guilty and was sentenced without due process of law.

Announces Candidacy

City Solicitor C. J. Kalbfleisch said today he would seek a second term.

He said he intended to file a declaration of candidacy seeking the Republican party nomination for the post of city solicitor.

And Kalbfleisch indicated that he didn't expect an opposition in the primary race. At present, Kalbfleisch is serving his first term in public office.

Meanwhile, "mum's the word" as far as the mayoralaty race is concerned. Mayor Roy W. Vaughn declined to comment today on whether he would seek reelection. He has taken out a petition, but no signatures have been solicited by him as yet.

Asked whether he thought there would be a fight for the Republican nomination for mayor, Vaughn said he had no definite information one way or the other.

And an informed source in the Democratic party indicated that there was a good possibility that there would be only one primary candidate for the Democratic nomination.

Traffic Fatalities Show Gain In City

Mansfield's streets weren't as safe for drivers and pedestrians in 1948 as they were the previous year, a report by the police department to the National Traffic Safety council showed today.

The report shows that five persons died in traffic accidents last year as compared with two in 1947.

The over-all number of reported traffic accidents climbed 17 per cent from 1,278 in 1947 to 1,505 in 1948.

Two of the fatalities involved pedestrians, two in a two-car collision, and one railroad crossing accident.

The report showed that although the total number of accidents increased, the number of personal injuries resulting from them fell from 187 to 174.

Of the 76 pedestrians injured in accidents, 25 were in five-to-14-year-old age group.

Most of the accidents occurred between the hours of 3 and 6 p. m. From 3 to 4 p. m., 107 were reported; between 4 and 5 p. m., 116 were reported and between 5 and 6 p. m., 100 were reported.

Most accidents occurred on Saturday than any other day of the week, with 321 of the 1,505 reported on that day. Friday was runner-up with 248. All fatalities occurred on week-ends. Three on Friday, two on Saturday and one on Sunday.

Twenty of the 76 pedestrians injured, were hurt at intersections while walking with the light and 20 were struck as they walked into the street from between parked cars.

More than half of all the accidents, 932, occurred when the vehicles involved were traveling an estimated 20 miles per hour or less.

MOST DURING DAY

Most of the accidents occurred during the daylight hours. Eight-hundred and 85 were reported during that time, 491 during the night and remainder at dawn and dusk.

More than one-fourth of the accidents occurred at places where there were traffic controls of one type or another, which, if obeyed, would have theoretically prevented the mishaps.

The majority of the accidents occurred in the residential areas of the city. Seven hundred and six were reported there

Of the 1,133 traffic law violations arising from traffic accidents, 235 were caused by drivers who failed to yield the right-of-way. Other major causes were following the car in front too closely, driving while under the influence of alcohol, disregarding stop signs or signals and improper passing.

Of the 59 vehicles involved in accidents and found to have mechanical defects, 38 had insufficient brakes.

Of the 1,505 accidents, 1,344 involved two-car collisions, 77 involved pedestrians, eight involved railroad trains, 11 involved bicycles, 41 involved fixed objects and the remainder were classified as miscellaneous.

Young Farm Couples Hold Class On Soil Conservation

The third session of a school for young farm couples was held last night in Richland county common pleas courtroom with 60 persons attending.

The class was conducted by Guy Miller, extension economist and Earl Jones, extension agronomist. Both men are from the state extension service in Columbus.

Jones discussed soil conservation as it affects the farm family. He laid emphasis on the importance of preventing soil erosion by describing practices prescribed by the extension service. Such practices include strip cropping on the contour, sod waterways, terraces, and suitable crop rotation for sloping lands. He stressed limitation of acreage for corn and suggested more land be put into meadows.

Level land conservation measures were discussed including tile drainage to solve the problem of poor tilth.

Miller's discussion was on productivity balance and how it affects the incomes of farm families. He cited figures prepared by the state extension service based on agricultural experiments.
